

ANALYTICAL REAGENTS

BUFFERED FORMALIN

A ready to use 10% solution of buffered formalin. it is the most commonly used general purpose routine fixative for tissue specimens. This solution is hypotonic in buffer ions and has a pH of 6.8 and tends to reduce the formation of formalin pigment.

Available Volume: 2,500 per bottle and 90 ml Leak Proof Specimen

XYLENE 98-99% (MIXTURE OF ISOMERS)

Not to be used for ineligible purposes. This oil has not borne excise duty and may not be used as heating fuel, motor fuel or additive or extender to motor fuel.

Xylene is any of the three isomers of dimethylbenzene, or a combination of the three. it is colourless, sweet smelling, flammable liquid, often used as a laboratory solvent.

Available Volume: 2,500 per bottle

METHANOL

Methanol, also known as methyl alcohol, is a chemical with the formula CH₃OH. It is light, volatile, colourless, flammable liquid with a distinctive odour similar to ethanol.

Available Volume: 2,500 per bottle

DENATURED ALCOHOL

A working solution of Denatured alcohol 70% in ultrapure water.

A component of the Sudan Black Stain Kit

Available Volume: 2,500 ml per bottle

FORMALDEHYDE 37% ACS

Formaldehyde is a colourless, flammable, strong-smelling chemical that is used in building materials and to produce many household products.

Available Volume: 2,500 ml per bottle

